SPEETZEN RESIGNS AS SECRETARY OF TOWNSHIP CHAMBER

The resignation of Harold Speetzen of Irvington as executive secretary of the Township Chamber of Commerce was accepted by the directors of the Chamber at a special meeting called Tuesday evening by President Dallas Paul.

Speetzen, who was present at the meeting, stated in his letter of resignation that he had accepted employment of a "higher priority" which would take him out of this area at various times. He stated that he was not at liberty to disclose the type of work that he has accepted.

ACCEPTED WITH REGRET

The resignation of the man who had served as executive secretary of the Chamber since it was formed last fall was accepted "with regret" by the directors present at the meeting. They expressed appreciation of the fine work that Speetzen had done.

Speetzen asked that the resignation become effective September 15 but agreed to remain on the job until October 1 to assist his successor.

Caught completely off guard by the surprise move, the directors are faced with the problem of filling the position in a minimum of time.

COMMITTEE NAMED

President Paul appointed a committee to interview applicants and the directors delegated them the power to hire the person that they feel best fitted for the job. Named to the committee were: Harry Weber, Centerville, chairman; Judge E. A. Quaresma, Niles; Paul Gygax, Newark; A. E. Alameda, Irvington; Manuel Seaone, Decoto; Bruce Michael, Warm Springs, and George Oakes of Hayward, representing Alvarado.

The new secretary will take over his duties at the next regular meeting of the Chamber at Decoto September 27.

CENTERVILLE K.C.'s SEAT OFFICERS

Newly elected officers of the Centerville Council, Knights of Columbus, were installed at ceremonies held last Thursday evening at Parish Hall.

Officers installed were: Walter Connolly, grand knight; Clifford Rogers, deputy grand knight; Joseph Kochalka, chancellor; George Bettencourt Jr., warden; Louis DiGuilio, outside guard; Don Plummer, inside guard; Rev. J. C. O'Connor, chaplain; Anthony Silva, lecturer; George Roderick, financial secretary; Manuel Silva, treasurer; Louis Mayer, recorder; and John Cattaneo, advocate.

Trustees are John Luiz, George Gomes and Bernie Joseph.

The installing officer was Tom Fennerally of Alameda, district deputy, assisted by J. Parotti of Oakland, admiral of the fourth degree.

More than 60 persons, representing councils in Alameda, Oakland and Berkeley, attended the ceremony.

TAREYTON VILLAGE HEARING TODAY

A special public hearing for consideration of approval of Tareyton Village subdivision plans will be held at 10 a.m. today (Friday) by the Alameda County Planning Commission at the court house in Oakland.

Construction on the 608-home tract near Decoto has been delayed pending the commission's approval of the company's proposed method of sewering the area.

The district attorney's office was asked to study the legality of the method proposed by the company and its findings are to be presented at today's meeting.

ALVARADO WOMAN KILLED IN CRASH

A tragedy in the hills three miles northeast of Decoto on Sunday claimed the life of Mrs. Pauline Frances Silva, 33, of Alvarado.

Mrs. Silva, her husband, Melvin Joseph Silva, and their son, Melvin Joseph Jr., were on an outing driving their jeep over the steep hillsides. The machine stalled near the summit of a steep incline and while they were endeavoring to get it started again it rolled backward out of control down the hill and over an embankment. Mrs. Silva was crushed beneath the machine. Her husband and son escaped injury.

She is also survived by a daughter, Myrna Jean Silva.

Mrs. Silva was the daughter of Mrs. Frances Allegre of Alvarado; sister of Mrs. Angie Vargas, Alvarado, Victor Allegre, Hayward, and Melvin Allegre of Alvarado. She was a native of Alvarado and a member of S.P.R.S.I. Council 21, U.P.P.E.C. Council 131, and the Ladies Auxiliary of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, Aerie 1695, all of Alvarado.

Funeral services were conducted by the Rev. Arthur Freeman at the Chapel of the Palms in Centerville at 9:30 a.m., Thursday. Interment was at Oak Hill Cemetery, San Jose.

WIDENING OF NILES ROAD IS REQUESTED

County Surveyor Wallace B. Boggs yesterday filed maps and descriptions of the right-of-way to be acquired for widening of the Niles-Alvarado road from the north of Niles, near California Nursery, to Decoto Road.

Boggs said that the average width of the right-of-way will be 110 feet. He asked the board to acquire the property, funds for the purchase of which have been allocated.

Most of the land to be acquired lies on the west side of the road. He said that in about six weeks flags would be posted, showing where the right-of-way will be located.

Actual construction is expected to be started next spring.

The road is being reconstructed to serve as a feeder line into the Eastshore Freeway, which will eventually connect Oakland and San Jose.

Of interest not only to parishioners of Corpus Christi Church in Niles but of interest to those of other parishes in the township is the announcement this week from the Rev. McEnery, pastor of Corpus Christi, that a week-long mission will be conducted here by the Rev. Arthur Pereira.

Rev. Pereira, a Franciscan missionary, will conduct the first meeting at Corpus Christi this Sunday, starting at 7:30 p.m. There will be sessions each evening thereafter for the rest of the week.

Any interested persons are welcome to attend.

CONTESTS LOOM IN TWO SANITARY DISTRICT ELECTIONS

Contests in two of the four sanitary district elections which will be held in Washington Township on Monday, September 18, have been assured following the announcements of details of the elections.

In the Union Sanitary District, which encompasses Niles, Centerville and Newark, the present ten-man board must be whittled down to a five-man board from a field of six candidates.

The six candidates are George Coit, Manuel Bernardo, S. G. Scott, Chester Gunn, George Burr and H. L. Scott.

Polling places will be at the Justice Courts in Niles and Centerville, and at the grammar school in Newark. All will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

In Decoto Al Fereira has filed to run against the incumbents, George Smith and Clarence Frates, both of whom have served on the board since 1936.

Decoto polling places will be the firehouse and Masonic Home and also will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. Election officials will be Mrs. John Enos Jr., Mrs. Silvio Re and Mrs. Ed Goulart.

Two names will be on the Irvington District's ballot. Raymond B. Benbow, incumbent who has served for one four-year term, will run again. Joseph Perreira, unopposed, is running for the first time. He had filled the unexpired term of Dr. J. H. Durham who resigned this summer.

According to R. J. Wright, clerk of the board, the polls, at the Leal Building in Irvington, and Solon's Building in Mission San Jose, will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

The four incumbents will run for re-election in Alvarado. They are: M. P. Goularte, Alvin Rose, Fred Joyce Sr., all of whom have served one four-year term, and Joseph Jacinto, who has served continuously as assessor since the inception of the Alvarado Sanitary District.

The grammar school will be the polling place there, and election officials will be Mrs. J. Menezes, Mrs. Charles Baird and Helen Anderson.

THANKS—WE CAN RAISE OUR OWN

The Santa Clara County Board of Supervisors was this week asked by the Alameda County Mosquito Abatement District to keep its mosquitoes at home.

The Alameda district informed the Santa Clara board by letter that it has made several surveys and turned up widespread mosquito breeding activities in the salt marshes near the town of Alviso.

The abatement district contends that the mosquitoes belong in Santa Clara County, but they don't stay there. They bite residents of Alameda County, especially folks living in and around Warm Springs. Needless to add, this irritates both the district officials and the persons being bitten.

The letter concluded, "It is requested that your Board of Supervisors take appropriate action to cause it (the nuisance) to be abated."

The Santa Clara supervisors referred the letter to the County Health Department.

SILVER JUBILEE FOR REV. O'CONNOR

The Rev. C. J. O'Connor will observe the Silver Jubilee of his ordination on September 20, at the Church of the Holy Ghost in Centerville where he is administrator.

Father O'Connor was born in Boher, County Limerick, Ireland, on October 15, 1902. He attended St. Patrick's Seminary, Thurles, 1918-1919, and St. Columban Seminary, 1919-1925. He was ordained at St. Columban's Seminary on September 20, 1925, for the Archdiocese of San Francisco.

In 1928 he served as assistant pastor of Sacred Heart Church, Oakland; St. Leo's Church, San Jose, 1928-1929; St. Brigid's, San Francisco, 1929-1942, and chaplain of Mary's Help Hospital from 1942 to 1946.

Named as administrator of Our Lady of Mt. Carmel Church, Mill Valley, on September 20, 1946, he served there until August 1, 1947, when he became chaplain at Notre Dame Hospital, San Francisco. Afterwards he was named administrator of St. Thomas, Palo Alto.

Father O'Connor served for a time at St. Augustine's, Oakland, and then on January 3, 1949, he was assigned as administrator at the Church of the Holy Ghost in Centerville.

ANNUAL BARBECUE

Over 500 steaks were served last Sunday to that many happy participants of the annual barbecue given by the California Pottery for its employees.

The affair was held at Elderberry Park. In addition to the employees there were their families and invited guests.

IRVINGTON FILES NEW PROTEST ON HIGHWAY SPEEDERS

Meeting Tuesday for the first time following their summer adjournment, the members of the Irvington Chamber of Commerce expressed determination to renew their fight to slow down traffic passing through that community on Highway 17.

Similar protests over the speed of traffic on Highway 17 through their school zones and business districts have been voiced during the past weeks by the Centerville and Alvarado Chambers of Commerce.

Pointing out that protests in the past have failed to result in any "noticeable action," the Chamber members instructed their secretary, Clifford Rogers, to address their complaint to Clifford Peterson, commissioner of the highway patrol.

Guest speaker at the meeting was S. N. Petersen, detective with the Alameda County Sheriff's department, who told of the need of volunteer special sheriff's deputies to serve in this area in the event of an emergency.

He stated that approximately 200 volunteers are needed in Southern Alameda County. Applications will be accepted from men between the ages of 30 to 55, provided they are not members of the active or inactive reserves of the armed forces. Applications will not be accepted from firemen, doctors or dentists.

Petersen said that the unit will fit into the defense program and may be called upon in the event of any type of disaster such as a large fire, airplane crash or a lost child.

The men selected will undergo a series of training periods of about two hours per night, two nights a week, such as is given to rookie deputies.

IRVINGTON C. OF C. TO HOLD BARBECUE

A barbecue, sponsored by the Irvington Chamber of Commerce and open to the public, will be held at Maple Hall in Irvington beginning at 6:30 p.m. on Saturday, September 16.

President Allan Hirsch has named the following committees to head the arrangements: Robert Zwissig, Edw. L. Rose and Carl Christensen, food; A. E. Alameda, and Joe Rose, entertainment; and Frank Mayer, Rollie Delp, Monford Krueger, Walter Connolly and Clifford Rogers, refreshments.

The Irvington fire commissioners have volunteered the use of their barbecue facilities for the affair and the meal will be served in the hall, followed by dancing and entertainment.

Eight Township Schools Open; 2,608 Enrollment

First-day enrollments Tuesday at eight of the ten schools in Washington Township failed to show as sizeable an increase in students as anticipated by school district superintendents.

A poll of the registration Tuesday at the seven grammar schools and Washington Union High School revealed that 2,608 students had attended classes on opening day, an increase of but 39 over the peak enrollment of those same schools last term.

School district superintendents pointed out, however, that late enrollments, based on past years' records, will undoubtedly swell the total another 250 students.

OPEN NEXT WEEK

Decoto and Warm Springs schools will open their 1950-51 term next Monday, September 11, and their enrollments, combined with late registrations, are expected to boost the number of students for the entire township over the 3,500 record mark.

Washington Union High School reported a first-day registration of 658, an increase of 13 over last year's opening day. J. V. Goold, district superintendent, reported, however, that 109 students who registered at the close of the 1949-50 term indicating that they would be in attendance this year, had not enrolled on opening day.

The freshman class at the high school was the largest of the four classes with an enrollment of 195. Other class registrations were as follows: sophomore, 175; junior, 147; and senior, 141.

Alvarado reported a first-day enrollment of 220, equal to last year's total, and Leslie Maffey, superintendent, estimated that late registrations would swell the total over the 250 mark.

One of the largest increases was noted at Newark where the opening day registration of 386 exceeded by more than 30 the total of last years enrollment. J. I. MacGregor, superintendent, stated Wednesday that he expects 25 additional late registrants.

Tom Maloney, superintendent at Centerville, reported first-day registration as 340 and estimated that late enrollments would swell the total to 360, an increase of approximately 20 over last year's total.

An all-time record first-day enrollment of 532 was reported at Niles by E. Dixon Bristow, superintendent, who stated that late enrollments should boost the total over the 580 mark. Bristow said Wednesday that another teacher will be added to the staff immediately to relieve the increase noted in the seventh grade.

An increase of 13 students was noted at Alviso by Superintendent James Nunes, who reported a first-day registration of 83 students.

A drop of 14 in enrollment was reported at Mission San Jose by Nathan Click, superintendent, who stated that first-day registration was 69. He estimated that late enrollments would boost the attendance to the past year's total.

A slight decrease in enrollment was also noted at Irvington, where a first-day registration of 320 was reported by Gus Robertson, superintendent. Robertson added, however, that he expected late registrations to boost the total over last year's 335 mark.

CANDY MAKER SEEKS LOCATION HERE

A New York candy company, which would employ about 75 women and 25 men, is seeking a location here, Harold Speetzen, executive secretary of Washington Township Chamber of Commerce, announced this week.

The company is interested in finding a suitable building or site for a new factory within Washington Township. It will purchase outright either an idle candy factory or any other suitable building with approximately 25,000 square feet on one floor, and which has facilities for steam pressure, ample gas, electric power, water supply and a loading platform. A railroad siding is preferred but not strictly necessary, Speetzen said.

ROGERS ORDERED BACK TO ACTIVE NAVY DUTY

Clifford Rogers, Irvington, a chief storekeeper in the U. S. Naval Reserves, has been ordered to active duty effective Oct. 5.

GREYHOUND LINES ASKED TO REROUTE THROUGH CANYON

Representatives of the Pacific Greyhound Bus Line have been invited to attend a future meeting of the Niles Chamber of Commerce to consider a proposal to reroute their Pleasanton-Mission San Jose line through Niles Canyon.

The action taken by the Niles Chamber at its meeting Tuesday followed complaints of residents along the highway between Niles and Mission San Jose.

Residents of that area stated that the Peerless Stage System, which now holds a franchise to operate between Niles and Mission, provides but one bus each way per day. They contend that such service is not adequate, pointing out that students and workers who depend upon bus service for commuting are greatly inconvenienced.

At the discussion of the proposal to ask the Greyhound company to change its route, it was pointed out by Chamber members that the highway through Niles Canyon is much less of a grade than the winding, narrow road from Mission to Livermore.

A similar request was made many years ago by the Niles Chamber and was turned down by the Greyhound company on the basis that the Niles Canyon highway had too many narrow bridges and winding turns. These hazards have been alleviated during the past years.

B.P.W. CLUB ANNUAL BARBECUE MONDAY

The Business and Professional Women's Club of Washington Township will hold its annual barbecue next Monday evening for members and their guests.

The affair will take place at the home of Mrs. Carmelita Berge Freitas. This is the first activity of the club since meetings were suspended during the summer.

Miss Audrey Carmody is president of the organization.

AMBULANCE KEPT BUSY

In the first 21 days that the Township Ambulance Service was in operation, it was used on ten calls, according to Bernard Vail, operator.

Vail said this week that during the last three weeks of August the ambulance was used for seven highway accidents, two other emergency cases and a convalescent haul.

COUNTRY CLUB TO HOLD LUNCHEON

The annual fall luncheon meeting of the Country Club will be held next Tuesday, September 12, at the International Kitchen, starting at one o'clock.

Mrs. Warren Gravestock, program chairman, has announced that the program will be comprised of vocal selections by Miss Lillian Speese, mezzo-soprano, accompanied by Mrs. Leola Wilson, both of Oakland.

Miss Speese, who sings Negro spirituals, is said to have a voice that some day might even rival that of the great Marian Anderson.

Niles Woman Tells of Experiences Abroad

Mrs. Nora Rogers and Mrs. Fleecie Gomes returned this week from their nine week's tour of Europe with the Archbishop Mitty Pilgrimage.

Of all the countries they visited, Mrs. Rogers—when interviewed this week—said that she liked Switzerland the most. She went on to say that the people in Germany were very friendly, the Belgians had the best food, the French people seemed to be the least industrious, and the people of Portugal the most industrious.

"Although the Portuguese people don't have many machines to work with—performing most of their labors by hand—they seem to be getting more done than people in any other country. They work all the time, and seem very aggressive. Prices in Lisbon are not low, but, on the other hand, when you buy something you get real quality."

With the exception of Rome, which she said was a beautiful city that she would like to visit again, Mrs. Rogers said that she didn't care if she'd ever see Italy again. "The people don't seem very friendly there," she said.

She liked London, and thought the shopping centers were very interesting, in spite of the drabness and the grayness of the city. "It looks as though a storm were brewing all the time—not windy, but just stormy."

In Italy, Spain (which is the poorest country of them all), and France, she went on to relate, the children seem to go around half-naked. "There is a general lack of prosperity in those countries. People don't seem to have very much."

Slow but Relaxing

The Merle Buehler family of Centerville returned home the early part of this week after two weeks spent in motoring up the Redwood Highway, almost as far as Portland. Their progress was slow because, as with all families, the children become tired of riding, but they enjoyed the leisurely aspect of the trip, as it was conducive to real relaxation.

At Lake Tahoe

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bragg and son, Bobby, of Niles are vacationing at Lake Tahoe this week. They expect to take in the sights of Reno while in the vicinity, and will return home in a week or ten days via the Redwood Highway.

Editor, Township Register.
Dear Sir:

I am writing about the Lost Western Pacific at Niles.

Some time ago the Western Pacific announced that they would stop their streamliner at Niles for the convenience of patrons of towns across the bay, San Jose, etc.

Several times since, I have been stopped by would-be passengers asking me to please tell them how and where to find the W. P. depot.

Only this morning a very excited man jumped out of his car and, rushing up to me said, "Please, will you please tell me how to reach the W.P.? We have been driving all over this town and can't find the depot and I am afraid I will miss our train."

I directed him to about five left-and-right turns he would have to make to find the depot—NOT in Niles. Seems the W.P. or some one should place a few signs where they would inform their potential customers where their depot is.

Regarding another matter—the bare flag pole in Niles. I would suggest that the flag should be raised to the mast-head at least on Sunday, as that day is a holy day, from which we derive our word "holiday."

Seems to me we can do no less to salute the boys who are fighting and dying in a hell-on-earth. I would also suggest that once a month the star-spangled banner—for which millions of our men have given their best, even to their lives—shall be raised to full staff, then lowered to half mast, to remain until the sun goes down.

Yours truly,
FRED A. STEARNS

Thinking Things Over . . .

By VIVIAN BATMAN

Like practically everyone else in Washington Township, we went to the State Fair.

Whereas most other Fair-goers were impressed by such things as farm implements exhibits, floriculture exhibits, and the size of the peaches in the County Building, the highlights of my trip were as follows:

(a) The fine array of turkey and ham at the Press luncheon. (Paid for by you tax-payers, you lucky dogs.)

(b) The feeling of relief I experienced when Governor Warren stopped talking at this same Press luncheon.

(c) Another feeling of relief when I actually found my way out of the catacombs of the racing grand-stand. For a while I thought I was going stir-crazy. I met another woman, trying to find her way out. "Isn't there ANY way to get out of here?" she asked, in apparent desperation. "I've been looking for a way out for an hour!"

(d) The comparative feeling of comfort when I relaxed in a big chair in the lounge of the Press building, with a big, tall glass of iced "coke" in my hand, with an electric fan blowing in my face . . . with my shoes off!

(e) The feeling of conviviality engendered by fellow pressmen in the Press building, all of whom were complaining about the heat, about the fair being in Sacramento anyhow, and "why in blazes don't they have it when the weather is cool!"

HOT TIPS FROM THE STATE FAIR

Any resemblance of the characters below to any living persons is purely coincidental.

"My goodness, why have they got those poor horses penned up in that cage?"

"That isn't a cage. It's the starter."

"Well, I think it's criminal, and I suppose they are going to make them run all around that track, on a hot day like this. Honestly, I think it's ghastly, the way people treat horses. You can plainly see they hate that cage—"

"STARTER!"

"Well, starter, then. But anyhow, I feel sorry for those poor horses having to run around in that heat. Somebody ought to complain. I think I'll—"

"You'll - - - WHAT?"

"Don't look at me like that. I wasn't going to do it today. I was just thinking of a letter I could write. . . . What horse are you going to bet on?"

"Lap-dog. He's a long shot."

"What's that?"

"Nobody ever expects 'em to win."

"Well, why do you bet on him then?"

"Because they always DO win, see? You're always hearing about long-shots coming in first."

"Oh, which one is he?"

"Number two."

"Come on! Lap-dog!"

"Gad, don't start yelling yet. Wait'll they come out of the starter. Oh, there they go! They're off!"

"Oh dear, this heat is affecting me. Will you get me some frozen orange? I saw the boy around here a little while ago."

"Gosh, can't you wait 'till this race is over? Oh boy, there goes Lap-dog!"

"Why so he is! Look at the cute old thing. You can plainly see he's just holding back, then he'll spurt ahead and really show 'em. Now he's walking over to the side and eating a clump of grass. That's really cute of him, isn't it, letting all those other horses get ahead of him that way? He's so nonchalant about it all, isn't he?"

"Yeah."

"What's the matter with you? You look sick. It's this heat, that's what it is. Reach in your pocket and get that lump of ice, and rub it on your forehead."

"What's ice doing in my pocket?"

"Don't look so horrified. I fished it out of that last glass of coke I had, and wrapped it in a paper napkin. I knew we'd be needing it. You'd think Sacramento would do something about this heat, everybody being overcome with prostration and everything."

"Lord, this ice has melted all over my cigarettes. What a mess! . . . I'm feeling worse. Just look at that nag."

"What nag?"

"Lap-dog."

"Why, he's still eating grass! When's he going to get started?"

"Yeah, when? . . . There goes the gun. Well, thats over."

"Poor Lap-dog. It's the heat, that's what it was. They had no business running him."

"Hand me that racing form, will you? I'll try to do better on this next one."

"What Racing Form?"

"The paper I gave you to hold a little while ago."

"Oh, that! Why I dont have it any more. I accordion-pleated it and gave it to the woman three rows ahead to use for a fan. You could plainly see she was being overcome with the heat. She was really very grateful. . . . Now get me a frozen orange, will you, and I wouldn't mind if you picked up a bag of pop-corn."

"It's a good thing she didn't want to know what time it is."

"Why?"

"Well, you're wearing a watch, aren't you? . . . Now, would you mind letting me concentrate on this next race for a few minutes? I'll get your orange juice as soon as I place my bet. I think I'll take Beef Broth."

"I'll take orange juice. And I do wish you'd hurry with it."

"Yeah, just as soon as I go down and place my bet. . . . Boy! Look at that baby."

"It seems to me that a married man—and at your age, too."

"I was talking about the horse. Now wait here, while I go down and place my bet on Beef Broth."

"Oh, horrors! There go my shoes!"

"Where?"

"Now they're down two rows ahead. Somebody kicked them."

"Lord, why don't you fasten them on tighter?"

"They weren't on at all! I took them off because my feet were swelling with this heat. If you weren't so busy looking at those old horses you'd have noticed. Oh dear, now they're three rows ahead. You'd better go after them quick. . . . Yoo-hoo! Not there! Over there by the lady with the green hat . . . No! Those aren't mine! . . . Mine are the size five-and-a-halfs. The yellow ones with the little green straps."

"Well, here are your shoes, at last. . . . The race is over, I see. And I never did get a chance to place my bet. . . . Who won?"

"Oh, did they run already? I didn't notice. I was looking at that woman over there with that atrocious hat. At least on her it looks atrocious. Now how do you think I'D look—"

"Wait a minute. Listen to what he's saying . . BEEF BROTH WON by a nose!"

"Why are you looking at me like that? Have I done anything?"

"Oh, nothing at all. I was just wondering if you wouldn't like to go and stay with your folks when football season comes around."

HUSKIES TO OPEN GRIDIRON SEASON HERE ON SEPT. 29

Coaches Jud Taylor and Clyde Voorhees issued gridiron suits during the week at Washington Union High School and will call their first workout for the young football aspirants next Monday afternoon.

Coach Taylor, in looking over the pre-season Huskie material, said yesterday that prospects for the season are "uncertain." He pointed out that he has been able to retain some of the strength of last year's fourth-place team in the Santa Clara Valley Athletic League but this year's line will be made up almost entirely of green hopefuls.

In the backfield, Taylor will depend on the strength of veterans Pagan and Bribes at fullback and Elizarrey, George Cicairos and Bernie Leal, halfbacks.

Veteran pass-catchers George Silveira and Paul Zeisse will be back at the end positions. The only other linemen who saw any action last year who will be back on this year's squad will be Jim McDonald, tackle; Willie Funk, guard, and Wayne Spence, center.

The Huskies will open their 1950 season on Friday, Sept. 29, in a non-conference tilt against the reserves from Poly High of San Francisco on the home turf.

NILES RACER WINS ROADSTER CROWN

Chet Richards of Niles lead-footed his McFadden Special home first under the checkered flag to win the Pacific Coast 100-lap hot-rod auto championship Sunday at Oakland Stadium speedway. His time was 44 minutes and 7 seconds.

Richards won by a quarter of a lap, but not before he had been forced to regain the lead twice from rivals who roared around the high-banked asphalt wall in a thrilling battle.

A field of 24 cars took Starter Bert Trubody's green flag, with Niles' top smokepath citizen jumping to a quick lead, only to have Elmer George of Salinas take over the number one spot on the third lap.

On the 38th lap, George was forced out with motor trouble and Richards resumed as pace-setter. Sam Hawks of Stockton grabbed the lead on lap 70 but Richards gave the McFadden Special full throttle and roared under Hawks to regain the lead on the 81st—and stay there until the checkered flag.

Mr. and Mrs. David Vargas who recently moved into their new home in Callory Court, were surprised at another housewarming last Saturday night. The week before, they had also had a housewarming, which now puts them in the "we have everything" class.

Two Birthdays Feted

In celebration of Bill Dutra's birthday last Tuesday evening, Mrs. Dutra invited the Lewis Musicks in for dinner. The next evening the birthday festivities were continued, as the Dutras invited LeRoy Broun to dinner. He was celebrating his birthday on that day. He expects Mrs. Broun and his son to return from Georgia in a few days.

Irvington Man to Wed San Jose Girl

A dinner party in San Jose was the setting for the engagement announcement Sunday of Viola Jaques of San Jose and Albert Figueroa, son of Mrs. David Costa of Irvington.

Albert, with the Hospital Corps at Oak Knoll Hospital, expects to leave for Korea momentarily, so no plans can be made now for a wedding.

His fiancee, who lives with her grandmother, Mrs. Mary Jaques, is in her third year at high school in San Jose. While her future husband is in Korea, she plans to finish her education.

Those present at the dinner party, which was given by Albert's aunt, Mrs. J. J. Torres, were Albert's mother and Mr. Costa; Mrs. Jaques, the engaged girl's grandmother; Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Corralez of Alvarado and daughter, Virginia; Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Azevedo of Santa Maria, Miss Shirley Ann Redd of San Jose, and Miss Minnie Martinez of Niles.

Enjoying Vacation At Ball Games

L. W. Krueger of Irvington left last week-end for Ada, Oklahoma, where he will spend the next three weeks enjoying himself watching the games of the Ada Herefords, the team which his son, Bill, manages in the Sooner Baseball League. The Krueger-managed club is now far in the lead in the league and should coast to an easy pennant. Mr. Krueger was accompanied on the trip by his daughter, Barbara, of Irvington, and his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Bill Krueger of Salinas.

Guests from Tucson

Now returned to Tucson, Arizona after spending several days with his mother, Mrs. H. F. Dobyns of Niles, is Henry Dobyns and his wife and family. His wife had many interesting anecdotes to relate as she had just returned from a plane trip abroad to see the famous Passion Play.

New in Niles

Enrolled as a new student at Washington High—and liking it very much—is Louise Judson, formerly of Woodside, who is making her home with her grandmother, Mrs. Elizabeth Mendenhall of Niles. Louise is a senior this year.

At State Fair

Don Gravestock, thirteen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Gravestock, was one of those who attended—and enjoyed very much—the State Fair last week-end. He went up with his cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Mowell of Palo Alto.

Goes to Notre Dame

Marilyn Enos, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Enos of Niles, will leave this week-end to enroll as a boarding student at Notre Dame in Belmont. Marilyn was graduated from the Niles grammar school last June.

FORMER MARILYN LE COUNT AND BRIDEGROOM HONEYMOONING IN SOUTH

Exchanging vows at an altar banked with white gladiolas, Marilyn LeCount and Alex Bernard became mister and missus last Sunday at a ceremony performed at Holy Ghost Church in Centerville.

The bride chose the traditional white satin gown, fashioned with a long train. Her finger-tip veil was of nylon net and was held in place with a coronet of lace and seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white orchids and lillies-of-the-valley.

Her sister, Barbara, the honor attendant, was attired in pale green taffeta, and wore bronze tuberous begonias in her hair. The same flowers were repeated in her bouquet.

The other attendants were the bride's twin sisters, Mrs. Wanda Garcia and Mrs. Waunita Hudson, and Elaine Bettencourt. They all wore gowns of orchid-colored taffeta, with yellow daisies in their hair. They carried bouquets of yellow tuberous begonias.

The little flower girl, Marsha Garcia, and the two train-bearers, Linda Lloyd and Kathy McClellan, made a charming picture in long white taffeta frocks. They wore baby roses in their hair, and Marsha carried a basket of baby roses.

Young Donnie Wyckoff performed the honors of ring-bearer, carrying the ring on a white satin pillow.

Mrs. Clarence LeCount, the bride's mother, chose a mauve crepe gown for her daughter's wedding, accented with black accessories and a double orchid corsage.

Mrs. G. Bernard, the bridegroom's mother, was in steel blue crepe, and also wore a double orchid corsage.

Standing up with his brother as best man was Alfred Bernard; and ushers were two other brothers, Manuel and Eddie, and Gary Bellati.

Robert de la Torre was soloist for the occasion, singing two selections, "On This Day O' Beautiful Mother" and "Ave Maria." Mrs. Velma Lewis was the organist.

After the ceremony, a reception held at the Country Club was attended by 150 guests, who danced to the strains of music furnished by the high school orchestra.

The four-tiered cake was placed on a table which also was highlighted with a silver tray filled with white dahlias. The cake was flanked with four tall white tapers.

The newlyweds left for a honeymoon at Catalina, and will return to take up residence in their new home on Stevens Street in Centerville.

Day at the Fair

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Moser over the Labor Day week-end were Mrs. Moser's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Tinder of Long Beach.

The day after the Tinders went home, the Mosers and Mr. and Mrs. George Meck and son, motored up to the State Fair. They were surprised to find the weather so cool at the evening show—at which the Andrew sisters performed—that they had to put on their coats.

Return from Vacation

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Walton and family of Centerville returned home last week after a very interesting two weeks' tour of the southwest. They stayed at the Desert Inn at Las Vegas for a while, then took in the Grand Canyon, Bryce Canyon and Zion, coming home via Salt Lake and Lake Tahoe.

Guests from Hanford

Guests of the Wayne Days recently were Mrs. Day's niece and husband, Mr. and Mrs. George Gomes and their two sons of Hanford.

In College of Pharmacy

Amelia Silva, daughter of Mrs. J. A. Silva of Niles, has enrolled in the College of Pharmacy of the University of California, in San Francisco. She has already taken two years of college training at San Jose State.

Vacation in South

Mr. and Mrs. Henry McMahan of Niles spent the Labor Day week-end vacationing in Los Angeles. They left Friday and returned Tuesday, spending a couple of days with friends and relatives in Riverside. The only thing about the trip that wasn't enjoyable, they said, was the terrific heat in Riverside. However, they were staying in an air-conditioned home, so it was endurable. They were accompanied by Mrs. McMahan's daughter, Helen Goddard.

Fly Up to Oregon

Spending the Labor Day week-end up in the air were flying enthusiasts Everett Mendenhall, Wally and Edna Ebright, and Wally's brother. They flew up in Everett's plane to LaGrande, Oregon, for a fishing expedition. Their trip was uneventful as far as flying was concerned, except for the fact that they were dismayed to see below them so much smoke from forest fires on the rampage.

They left Saturday and returned Monday.

By ELAINE HOWE

If Margaret Mitchell had ever written a sequel to "Gone With the Wind," millions of readers would have rushed to see if Scarlett did get Rhett to come back, and what happened next. When you read a book whose characters seem like living people, you often wish you might know more about them. Frank Slaughter, whose medical novels have covered the range from 15th century Padua to socialized medicine in the 20th century, wrote "In a Dark Garden" a few years ago. It concerned a young Confederate surgeon and his career in the Civil War, complicated by marriage to a beautiful girl who turned out to be a Union spy. That was fast-paced and most exciting. Now in "The Stubborn Heart," Dr. Slaughter has picked up his two chief characters of the earlier book, Dr. Julian Chisholm and his wife, Jane, and set them down on the family estate, Chisholm Hundred, gutted by the ravages of war. The scene is the reconstruction period and rascally carpetbaggers and agents of the Freedman's Bureau overrun the south. The action is breathlessly swift as Julian tries to demonstrate that a big estate can be run successfully with blacks and whites working together and paid in cash. The bloody Ku Klux Klan does its best to thwart his efforts. This one is just as good as the others have been.

Jumping a hundred years to an even bloodier period in history, we come to John Hersey's "The Wall." Hersey will be remembered as the author of the gripping "Hiroshima." He uses the literary devise of the discovery of a lost diary to portray the systematic, peacemeal extermination of the Jews of the Warsaw ghetto. Hersey writes with clarity and force of the growth in spirit of a group of friends caught in this horrible trap—to show the triumph of the human spirit over such degradation. The book is not for queasy stomachs, but a memorable experience for the hardy.

THRILLING CAPTURE MADE IN CENTERVILLE

* * * * * * * * *

BELSHAW WINS PRAISE OF NEIGHBORHOOD

Residents of South Main Street in Centerville were "terrorized" last Saturday morning by a monkey who cavorted around the neighborhood until he was captured by Arthur (Bring 'Em Back) Belshaw.

The monkey was first noticed by Mrs. Antoinina Cognine, who lives near Washington Union High School.

Hoping to recruit the assistance of the law in removing the culprit from further pilfering of her vegetable garden, Mrs. Cognine ran to the home of Highway Patrolman Duffey Lewis. Mr. Lewis was not at home and Mrs. Lewis didn't feel capable of effecting the "arrest."

BANANA HALTS CHASE

The monkey awaited his chance to cross the heavy traffic on Highway 17, then bolted across to the Ralph Goodwin lawn.

Mrs. Goodwin won a toothy smile from the critter by tossing him a banana, and also allowed the three women a chance to meditate on how to cope with the situation.

Finished with the banana, the monkey turned his attention to a nearby garden where he proceeded to husk and devour several ears of corn. It was while he was enjoying this repast that Belshaw came to the rescue.

They got off to a fairly even start, Belshaw and the monkey, and the steeple-chase took them over lawns, hedges, fences, porches, even into a tree, from which Belshaw promptly tumbled, bruising his avoirdupois and his pride.

'I WAS TRICKED'

Admitting defeat, Belshaw dusted himself off and strolled over to where the monkey was perched atop an automobile for the customary sportsmanlike handshake of the vanquished and the victor.

The monkey likewise extended his hand, shook his paw in a gentlemanly fashion and then climbed onto his new friend's shoulder for a ride home and eventual captivity.

Yesterday the monkey was still sitting in an improvised cage awaiting the man from the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals and jibbering in monkey profanity about the "poor loser" who tricked him into giving up his freedom.

LOCAL DISPLAYS GET STATE FAIR AWARDS

Washington Township exhibitors won their share of awards at the 1950 California State Fair in the several classes which they entered.

The Weibel Champagne Vineyard in Mission San Jose won awards for the wines which it exhibited in state-wide competition. The vineyard received silver awards for its Black and Red Muscatel, and Pinot Chardonnay; bronze awards for pink champagne and muscatel; and an honorable mention for sweet vermouth.

The California Nursery was awarded first prize for its naturalistic garden exhibit.

Salt plants in Newark won first place awards, and tile products from Niles took a second.

Vegetables grown in Washington Township scored high. Competing against the entire state they won second place in the sweepstakes.

In the counties division of the floral show Alameda County took a first, second, or third place in each of the twelve flower sections.

SCOUTERS TO MEET AT MILLS COLLEGE

Boy Scout, Cub Scout and Explorer Scout leaders from throughout the Oakland Area Council will meet tomorrow (Saturday) at Mills College for the council's annual planning conference.

An address by Dr. Albert E. Iverson of New York City, national director of protestant relationships for the Boy Scouts of America, will highlight the meeting.

All council committees have been active in preparing for the conference, which is called to develop plans for the 1950-51 program year, according to Edward Pitcher, council commissioner and chairman of the conference.

Scouting leaders have been polled for their suggestions. The conference will allow time for all participants to contribute to the final recommendations to the council's executive board.

CHURCH CAMPAIGN TO OPEN MONDAY

Letters explaining the need of a new manse for the Centerville Presbyterian Church will be mailed to residents of Centerville and nearby communities Monday by the fund-raising campaign committee.

Robert H. Kithcart, campaign manager, has announced that the actual solicitation of funds will be conducted from September 24 through October 1, with the group hopeful of attaining their goal of $10,000.

Gordon Morris, publicity chairman, said this week that persons willing to contribute but not on the mailing list for the letters should notify either him or Kithcart.

The construction project at the church was deemed necessary after it was learned that to restore the old manse to a liveable condition would approximate the cost of new construction.
